You are about to purchase a product that is not simple and may be difficult to understand.

What is this product?

Type	Over the Counter Derivative (OTC) – FX Option
Objectives	An FX Option is a hedging solution which provides protection against adverse foreign exchange rate movements above pre-agreed levels, ending on the expiry date. The objective of this product is to provide you with a worst-case foreign exchange rate (the “Strike Rate”) for a future specified foreign exchange transaction in return for you making a non-refundable premium payment. The product gives you the right but not the obligation to exchange one currency for another at a fixed future date (the expiry date). Sample Parameters and pre-agreed circumstances and conditions are set out below for the sale of USD and purchase of GBP: <table border="1"> <tr> <td>Expiry Date</td> <td>6 Months</td> <td>Forward Rate</td> <td>1.4107</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Call Amount (client buys)</td> <td>GBP 100,000</td> <td>Put Amount (client sells)</td> <td>USD 143,000</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Spot Rate</td> <td>1.4000</td> <td>Strike Rate</td> <td>1.4300</td> </tr> </table> The above product data are to be understood as indication only (all prices subject to change). The product achieves its objectives as follows: If, at the Expiry Date the FX Spot Rate is trading at or above the Strike Rate, then you have the right but not the obligation to sell USD and buy GBP at the Strike Rate on the Call Amount. If, at the Expiry Date the FX Spot Rate is trading below the Strike Rate, then you may choose to buy GBP and sell USD at the prevailing FX Spot Rate.				Expiry Date	6 Months	Forward Rate	1.4107	Call Amount (client buys)	GBP 100,000	Put Amount (client sells)	USD 143,000	Spot Rate	1.4000	Strike Rate	1.4300
Expiry Date	6 Months	Forward Rate	1.4107
Call Amount (client buys)	GBP 100,000	Put Amount (client sells)	USD 143,000
Spot Rate	1.4000	Strike Rate	1.4300
Intended Retail Investor	This product is intended for retail clients for the purpose of hedging future foreign exchange exposures to mitigate the risk of an adverse currency move. The FX Option is appropriate if the client is able to pay an upfront premium to hedge known exposures and manage downside FX risk but also where they want to express a market view that spot rates will trade in their favour. The transaction shall not be for speculative purposes. As such you are expected to hold the product to maturity to match your exposure. Please note that AIB does not provide investment or other advice in the sale of this product.
Term	The expiry date of the FX Option will be agreed with AIB before you enter into the transaction. It is a bilateral agreement that cannot ordinarily be terminated unilaterally by either you or AIB.

How long should I hold it and can I take money out early?

This product cannot be sold or transferred easily. It is designed to be held to the agreed Expiry Date in order to match your investment requirement. Hence, there is no recommended holding period. This product can only be matured on the date(s) agreed with AIB. Early termination may occur in the event of a default by either you or AIB.

Performance scenarios

Market developments in the future cannot be accurately predicted. The scenarios shown are only an indication of some of the possible outcomes based on recent returns. Actual returns could be lower.

This table shows the money you could get back over the recommended holding period, under different scenarios, assuming that you invest £100,000. The scenarios shown illustrate how your investment could perform. You can compare them with the scenarios of other products. The scenarios presented are an estimate of future performance based on evidence from the past on how the value of this investment varies, and are not an exact indicator. What you get will vary depending on how the market performs and how long you keep the product. The stress scenario shows what you might get back in extreme market circumstances, and it does not take into account the situation where we are not able to pay you. This product cannot be easily cashed in. This means it is difficult to estimate how much you would get back if you cash in before the end of the recommended holding period. You will either be unable to cash in early or you will make a large loss if you do so. The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself and include the costs of your advisor or distributor. The tax legislation of the United Kingdom may have an impact on your actual payout. The figures do not take into account your personal tax situation, which may also affect how much you get back.

Nominal Amount £100,000

What happens if AIB is unable to pay out?

AIB is a member of the Irish compensation scheme established under the Investor Compensation Act 1998 (the 1998 Act). The 1998 Act provides for the establishment of a compensation scheme and payment, in certain circumstances, of compensation to certain clients (defined in the Act as eligible investors) of authorised investment firms. You may be entitled to compensation from this scheme if we are unable to meet any of our liabilities to you. Where an entitlement to compensation is established, the compensation payable will be 90% of your net loss or €20,000 (whichever is the lesser).

AIB London Branch has entered the Temporary Permissions Regime. As a customer of AIB London Branch you may therefore be entitled to compensation from the Financial Services Compensation Scheme if we are unable to meet any of our liabilities to you. Where an entitlement to compensation is established, the compensation payable will be the total of your net loss or £85,000 (whichever is the lesser). Further information about compensation arrangements is available from the Financial Services Compensation Service (www.fscs.org.uk).

What are the costs?

The Reduction in Yield (RIY) shows what impact the total costs you pay will have on the performance of the product.

The total costs take into account one-off, ongoing and incidental costs. The amounts shown here are the cumulative costs of the product itself, for three different holding periods. They include potential exit penalties. The figures assume a nominal value of £100,000. The figures are estimates and may change in the future.

Table 1: Costs over time

The person selling you or advising you about this product may charge you other costs. If so, this person will provide you with information about these costs, and show you the impact that all costs will have on your investment over time.
